

Celebrating lives

A WOOBURN GREEN mum has set up in business organising wakes and funerals and supporting bereaved families.

Before having her daughter Connie, one, pictured, Louise Harris led a showbiz life in London, managing events such as the Urban Music Awards and booking entertainment for celebrity parties.

Now she has set up Sentiment Farewells, to support families who are planning a funeral and want to give their loved one a special send-off.

“One night I was watching a TV drama and they had a beautiful funeral and it made me think they always make funerals on TV look so amazing – but they are not like that in real life,” said Louise.

Organising a memorial when you're grieving can be traumatic and Louise hopes to make the experience less stressful while providing a fitting tribute. She can help with everything from finding a venue for the wake, organising catering and flowers, contacting relatives and friends, booking flights, and creating photo and video montages of the person who has passed away.

She also works with people who wish to pre-plan their own funeral.
